

"As a physician, it is my duty to educate patients on how they can improve their health and quality of life."

About Jonathan Wald, DACM

Whether flipping through The Anatomy Coloring Book or receiving acupuncture for his own ailments, Dr. Jonathan Wald has always wanted to be a doctor. "As a physician, it is my duty to educate patients on how they can improve their health and quality of life," he says. Dr. Wald loves seeing patients "enjoy things that they couldn't before" and takes pride in serving the senior population. "I am humbled to be a part of their lives and healing," he says. Dr. Wald emphasizes preventative care in his practice and strives to treat his patients like family.

In his spare time, Dr. Wald loves gardening, walking, and exploring new places with his children. For several years, Dr. Wald also served as the dean of an acupuncture school.

Jonathan Wald, DACM

LANGUAGES SPOKEN English

SPECIALTIES

Acupuncture

EDUCATION

Pacific College of Health and Science Kyung Hee University Medical Center Bastyr Center for Natural Health Providence St. Vincent Medical Center Bastyr University

ASSOCIATIONS

American Association of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine American Society of Acupuncturists Florida State Oriental Medical Association National Certification Commission for Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine

MY CENTER

South St. Petersburg

901 22nd Ave South, St. Petersburg, FL, 33705

(727) 310-0925

Request Appt.

View Center