“Seniors' healthcare needs are unique and often complex. I'm here to help them through tough times and good times. It's why I became a doctor. ”

About Sailaja Dandamudi, MD

Dr. Sailaja Dandamudi knew she wanted to work with seniors before she entered medical school. By the time she started her residency, she decided to specialize in geriatric medicine. Today, she's excited to continue that work with seniors at Dedicated Senior Medical Center.

"Seniors' healthcare needs are unique and often complex," says Dr. Dandamudi. "As their healthcare advocate, I can help guide them in their journeys to better health and a better quality of life. That's important all the time, even more so when they're sick. Being sick can be a vulnerable time for my senior patients. I'm here to help them through tough times and good times. It's why I became a doctor."
