“I am here as a resource and a tool to help make sure you are well cared for.”

About Tanisha Saint-Fleur, DNP, FNP

Growing up, Tanisha Saint-Fleur loved hearing about her mom’s experiences as a nurse. “My favorite part of my profession is being in a position where I can impact the health of my patients in a way that is not just a Band-Aid but provides long-term, well-rounded lifestyle changes that improve not only their quantity of life but their quality of life,” she explains. She views healthcare as a human right and believes in treating the whole person rather than a series of symptoms. “I am here as a resource and a tool to help make sure you are well cared for,” she says.

In her free time, Tanisha Saint-Fleur can be found reading, dancing, or spending time with family and friends. She also loves hiking and has summited Mount Kilimanjaro.
