“It has been my life calling to serve those who are weak and it has been an honor and tremendously fulfilling to get the opportunity to do so with seniors ever day.”

About Frank Ebai, MD

Dr. Frank Ebai embodies “a compassionate and value-based therapeutic approach” in his practice. “It has been my life calling to serve those who are weak, and it has been an honor and tremendously fulfilling to get the opportunity to do so with seniors every day,” he says. He likes getting to know patients “holistically and not just their diagnoses” and wants patients to know they can depend on him. “I am available for them anytime they have a health concern, either in the office or over the phone,” he explains.

Originally from Cameroon, Central Africa, Dr. Ebai has lived much of his life in Chicago but is excited to now call Texas home. He considers himself “a soccer and basketball aficionado” and even runs a fantasy soccer league.
