“I want to partner with you to find your way to a healthier, happier life.”

About Michael Engel, MD

Since his teenage years, Dr. Michael Engel has “wanted to make a difference in people’s lives and help them be well and stay well.” He elaborates, “I love to hear when a patient has been able to make a positive change.” He finds it rewarding to care for the senior population and always listens to his patients’ concerns to “help them find the best solutions.” He explains, “I want to partner with you to find your way to a healthier, happier life.” If Dr. Engel could change anything about healthcare today, he would remove the financial focus and burden.

When not with patients, Dr. Engel can be found spending time with family or traveling. He also has a saltwater aquarium and likes growing hydroponic herbs and vegetables.
