

“I enjoy guiding seniors to better health, so they can enjoy time with their families and pursue the life they want.”

About Andrew Barr, MD

Dr. Andrew Barr grew “fascinated by the workings of the human body” after receiving an anatomy coloring book as a child. His favorite part of his profession is “providing outstanding healthcare with a personal touch.” He actively listens to patients and always treats them with “dignity and respect.” He adds, “I enjoy guiding seniors to better health, so they can enjoy time with their families and pursue the life they want.” In his down time, Dr. Barr enjoys cooking, traveling, and spending time with family. He is also a Grand Prix motorcycle racing fanatic.

Dr. Barr comes from a family with a military background. Throughout and following his time in medical school, he served in numerous positions across the globe with the US Army.
