

"The opportunity to make a positive impact on their well-being, offer comfort in times of need, and be a source of support during the later stages of life is what truly motivates me."

About Kyle Rauch, MD

Dr. Kyle Rauch is passionate about helping seniors live fulfilling lives. "The opportunity to make a positive impact on their well-being, offer comfort in times of need, and be a source of support during the later stages of life is what truly motivates me," he says. Active listening, empathy, respect, and accessibility are a few of the many values he upholds in his practice. He likes developing individualized care plans. He explains, "I aim to create a strong bond with my patients, ensuring they feel valued, understood, and wellsupported."

In his free time, Dr. Rauch prioritizes "self-care, professional development, and spending quality time with loved ones." He also enjoys reading and collecting Pokemon memorabilia.
